The Metro Stations in Phase-I Extension from Washermanpet to Thiruvottiyur/Wimco Nagar has been designed keeping in mind the space availability without hindering the heavy traffic that flows through the arterial roads of the said location. Keeping up with the surrounding cultural attributes of Washermanpet to Thiruvottiyur/Wimco Nagar, the exteriors of the stations are designed artistically and vibrantly to add to the travel experience of the passengers. Station buildings act as the unique landmarks and contribute to the fabric of the city.

Use of modern graphical pattern on the walls add curiosity to the people living around and encourage them to explore the Metro Rail System. Two types of graphic pattern have been provided throughout the line on the gable end, to break the monotony of the corridor running parallel to the Thiruvottiyur High Road. The shades of blue & white used in the Elevated Metro Stations are inspired by the Chennai Metro Rail Logo.

Several vibrant colours have been utilized underneath the station buildings to create a positive and bright environment throughout the Medians also. All the structural elements of the Metro Station buildings are painted in different colours to enable people living in the vicinity in identifying the Metro Stations easily and also differentiate between different structural elements while driving through the stations. LED lights have been fitted with all Metro Station Signages to enable passengers to identify the Metro Stations with ease.

CMRL has been a pioneer in introducing several unique facilities to benefit the people of Chennai by connecting major transport hubs, public places and by providing consistent punctual service and well maintained Metro Stations. No doubt this will transform Chennai into a world class destination for investments, tourism and economic activities.

Sustaining Growth with Inclusivity and Diversity

Chennai Metro Rail Limited has always endeavoured to provide a diverse and inclusive work culture in the organization. Building the diversity of our workforce, and creating an inclusive workplace culture is a key focus at CMRL.
